Note 1 – Profile

The City Government of Panabo was created by virtue of Republic Act No. 9015 dated March 31, 2001. It is a third-class component city of the Province of Davao del Norte composed of 40 Barangays, of which eleven (14) barangays are classified as urban barangay while twenty-nine (26) were classified as rural barangays.

It is within the latitude of 125º to 44º North and longitude of 7º, 14º and 23º East. It is bounded on the North-West by the Municipality of Carmen, on the South-West by Davao Gulf and on the West by Davao City.

The City of Panabo has a total land area of 25,123 hectares and a population of 209230, according to the 2020 census conducted by the Philippine Statistics Authority. The projected population for 2025 is 226,513 based on consolidated family profile nutrition and 245,223 based on the growth rate per PSA year 2025 and 2030.

The Local Government Unit (LGU) of Panabo is envisioned to be a progressive, ecologically-balanced and peaceful Agri-industrial city characterized by a friendly, disciplined, empowered and self-reliant citizenry under transparent governance with sufficient facilities and services as well as social justice and equality.

The following are the elective officials in the City of Panabo as of December 31, 2024:

Note 2 - Statement of Compliance and Basis for Preparation

The consolidated financial statements of the LGU have been prepared in accordance with and in compliance with the International Public Sector Accounting Standards (IPSAS). The consolidated financial statements are presented in pesos, which is the functional and reporting currency of the LGU. The accounting policies have been applied since the year 2015.

Note 3 - Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

3.1 Adoption of New Accounting Standards

The consolidated financial statements are prepared in compliance with the International Public Sector Accounting Standards (IPSAS). The adoption of IPSAS has required changes to be made to the accounting policies followed by the Agency. The following accounting standards and interpretations to existing standards that have been published by the International Public Sector Accounting Standards Board (IPSASB) and adopted by the Philippine Public Sector Accounting Standards Board (PPSASB) which became effective for accounting periods beginning on or after January 1, 2015 were adopted by the Agency:

IPSAS 1	Presentation of Financial Statements
IPSAS 2	Cash Flow Statements
IPSAS 3	Accounting Policies, Changes in Accounting Estimates and Errors
IPSAS 9	Revenue from Exchange Transactions
IPSAS 12	Inventories
IPSAS 14	Events after the Reporting Date
IPSAS 16	Property, Plant & Equipment
IPSAS 19	Provisions, Contingent Liabilities & Contingent Assets
IPSAS 20	Related Party Disclosures
IPSAS 23	Revenue from Non-Exchange Transactions (Taxes & Transfers)
IPSAS 24	Presentation of Budget Information in Financial Statement
IPSAS 27	Agriculture
IPSAS 28	Financial Instruments: Presentation
IPSAS 29	Financial Instruments: Recognition and Measurement
IPSAS 30	Financial Disclosures

These new standards and interpretations prescribe new accounting measurement and disclosure requirements applicable to the LGU. When applicable, the adoption of the new standards was made following the transitional provisions of the standards, otherwise, the adoption of the new standards is accounted for as a change in accounting policy under IPSAS 3: "Accounting Policies, Changes in Accounting Estimates and Errors."

The effects of these new standards and interpretations on the LGU's accounting policies and on the amounts disclosed in the financial statements are summarized as follows:

IPSAS 1: "Presentation of Financial Statements" provides different terminology for the financial statements. The most significant examples are the use of "statement of financial position" and "statement of financial performance". The equivalent terms used in prior years are "balance sheet" and "income statement", respectively. The standard sets out the components of financial statements and minimum requirements for disclosure on the face of the statement of financial position and the statement of financial performance, as well as for the presentation of changes in net assets/equity. It also describes further items that may be presented either on the face of the relevant financial statement or in the notes.

IPSAS 2: "Cash Flow Statements" requires the provision of information about the historical changes in cash and cash equivalents by means of a cash flow statement which classifies cash flows during the period from operating, investing and financing activities.

IPSAS 3: "Accounting Policies, Changes in Accounting Estimates & Errors" prescribes the criteria for selecting and changing accounting policies, together with the accounting treatment and disclosures of changes in accounting policies, changes in accounting estimates, and the correction of errors.

IPSAS 9: "Revenue from Exchange Transactions" prescribes the accounting treatment of revenue arising from exchange transactions and events. According to this standard, revenue is recognized when it is probable that future economic benefits or service potential will flow to the entity, and these benefits can be measured reliably. This Standard identifies the circumstances in which these criteria will be met and, therefore, revenue will be recognized.

IPSAS 12: "Inventories" provides guidance on the determination of cost and its subsequent recognition as an expense, including any write-down to net realizable value. It also provides guidance on the cost formulas that are used to assign costs to inventories.

IPSAS 14: "Events After the Reporting Date" prescribes when an entity adjusts its financial statements for events after the reporting date, and the disclosures that an entity should give about the date when the financial statements were authorized for issue, and about events after the reporting date.

IPSAS 17: "Property, Plant and Equipment" prescribes the accounting treatment on the recognition of the property, plant and equipment, the determination of their carrying amounts, and the depreciation charges and where applicable, the impairment losses to be recognized in relation to them.

IPSAS 19: "Provisions, Contingent Liabilities and Contingent Assets" requires that certain information be disclosed about contingent liabilities and contingent assets in the notes to the financial statements, to enable to understand their nature, timing, and amount.

IPSAS 20: "Related Party Disclosures" requires the disclosure of the existence of related party relationships where control exists, and the disclosure of information about transactions between the entity and its related parties in certain circumstances. The standard gives guidance in identifying which parties control or significantly influence the reporting entity, and in determining what information should be disclosed about transactions with those parties.

IPSAS 23: "Revenue from Non-Exchange Transactions (Taxes and Transfers)" addresses revenue arising from non-exchange transaction of which majority revenue of the government entities typically derived, such as taxes and transfers.

IPSAS 24: "Presentation of Budget Information in Financial Statement" requires a comparison of budget amounts and the actual amounts arising from execution of the budget to be included in the financial statements of entities that are required to, or elect to, make publicly available the approved budget(s), and for which are, therefore, held publicly accountable.

IPSAS 27: "Agriculture" is applied to agricultural produce, which is the harvested product of the entity's biological assets, only at the point of harvest. It prescribes the accounting treatment and disclosures for agricultural activity in which it refers to the management by an entity of the biological transformation and harvest of biological assets intended for sale, distribution at no charge or conversion into agricultural produce or into additional biological assets.

IPSAS 28: "Financial Instruments: Presentation" establishes the principles for presenting financial instruments as liabilities or net assets/equity and for offsetting financial assets and financial liabilities. It applies to the classification of the financial instruments, from the perspective of the issuer, into financial assets and financial liabilities, and the circumstances in which financial assets and financial liabilities should be offset.

IPSAS 29: "Financial Instruments: Recognition and Measurement" establishes principles for recognizing and measuring financial assets and financial liabilities.

IPSAS 30: "Financial Disclosures" requires the entity to provide disclosures in the financial statements that enable users to evaluate the significance of financial instruments for the entity's financial position and performance, and the nature and extent of risks arising from financial instruments to which the entity is exposed during the period and at the end of the reporting period, and how the entity manage those risks.

The significant effect of the adoption of the Philippine Public Sector Accounting Standards (IPSAS) to Agency's Financial Statements is that infrastructure assets which include road networks shall be taken up as Property, Plant and Equipment. The annual consumption of their service potential and loss of value through depreciation and impairment shall also be recognized.

3.2 One Fund Concept

The LGU adopts the "One Fund Concept". Separate fund accounting shall be done only when specifically required by law or by a donor agency or when otherwise necessitated by circumstances subject to prior approval of the Commission. As required under Sections 308, 309, and 310 of the Local Government Code, separate books shall be maintained for the General Fund, Special Education Fund, and Trust Fund.

a. General Fund (GF) – a fund that every local government unit shall maintain which shall be used to account for such monies and resources as may be received by and disbursed from the local treasury. The General Fund consists of monies and resources of the local government which are available for the payment of expenditures, obligations, or purposes not specifically declared by law as accruing and chargeable to, or payable from, any other fund. (Sec. 308 of the Local Government Code of 1991 or R.A. 7160)

The LGU maintains special accounts under the General Fund for the following economic enterprises:

- Market Operation
- Terminal Operation
- Slaughterhouse Operation
- Cemetery Operation
- Other Special Accounts maintained under the General Fund are, as follows:
  - General Fund Proper
  - 20% Development Fund

b. Special Education Fund (SEF) – consists of the share of the City in the proceeds of the additional tax on real property. The proceeds from the additional one percent (1%) tax on real property accruing to the Special Education Fund shall be automatically released to the local school board. Provided, however, that the proceeds shall be allocated for the operation and maintenance of public schools, construction and repair of school buildings, facilities and equipment, educational research, purchase of books and periodicals, and sports development as determined and approved by the Local School Board. (Sec. 272 & 309A of the Local Government Code of 1991 or R.A. 7160)

c. Trust Fund (TF) – consists of private and public monies which have officially come into the possession of the local government or of a local government official as trustee, agent, or administrator, or which have been received as guaranty for the fulfillment of some obligation. A Trust Fund shall only be used for the specific purpose for which it was created or for which it came into the possession of the local government unit. (Sec. 309B of the Local Government Code of 1991 or R.A. 7160)

3.3 Revenue recognition

Revenue from non-exchange transactions

Taxes, fees, and fines

The LGU recognizes revenues from taxes and fines when the event occurs and the asset recognition criteria are met. To the extent that there is a related condition attached, that would give rise to a liability to repay the amount, liability is recognized instead of revenue. Other non-exchange revenues are recognized when it is probable that the future economic benefit or service potential associated with the asset will flow to the entity and the fair value of the asset can be measured reliably.

Transfers from other government entities

Revenues from non-exchange transactions with other government entities are measured at fair value and recognized on obtaining control of the asset (cash, goods, services, and property) if the transfer is free from conditions and it is probable that the economic benefits or service potential related to the asset will flow to the LGU and can be measured reliably.

The LGU availed of the 5-year transitional provision for the recognition of Tax Revenue - Real Property and Special Education Tax. For the first year, there will be no change in policy for the recognition of the aforementioned tax revenue.

Revenue from exchange transactions

Rendering of services

The LGU recognizes revenue from the rendering of services by reference to the stage of completion when the outcome of the transaction can be estimated reliably. The stage of completion is measured by reference to labor hours incurred to date as a percentage of total estimated labor hours.

Where the contract outcome cannot be measured reliably, revenue is recognized only to the extent that the expenses incurred.

Sale of Goods

Revenue from the sale of goods is recognized when the significant risks and rewards of ownership have been transferred to the buyer, usually on delivery of the goods and when the amount of revenue can be measured reliably, and it is probable that the economic benefits or service potential associated with the transaction will flow to the LGU.

Interest income

Interest income is accrued using the effective yield method. The effective yield discounts estimated future cash receipts through the expected life of the financial asset to that asset's net carrying amount. The method applies this yield to the principal outstanding to determine interest income each period.

Rental Income

Rental income arising from operating leases on investment properties is accounted for on a straight-line basis over the lease terms and included in revenue.

3.4 Investment Property

Investment properties are measured initially at cost, including transaction costs. The carrying amount includes the replacement cost of components of an existing investment property at the time that cost is incurred if the recognition criteria are met and excludes the costs of the day-to-day maintenance of an investment property. Investment property acquired through a non-exchange transaction is measured at its fair value at the date of acquisition. Subsequent to initial recognition, investment properties are measured using the cost model and are depreciated over the life of the investment property, in the case of building. Investment properties are derecognized either when they have been disposed of or when the investment property is permanently withdrawn from use and no future economic benefit or service potential is expected from its disposal. The difference between the net disposal proceeds and the carrying amount of the asset is recognized in the surplus or deficit in the period of derecognition. Transfers are made to or from investment property only when there is a change in use

3.5 Property, Plant, and Equipment

All property, plant, and equipment are stated at cost less accumulated depreciation and impairment losses. Cost includes expenditure that is directly attributable to the acquisition of the items. When significant parts of property, plant, and equipment are required to be replaced at intervals, the LGU recognizes such parts as individual assets with specific useful lives and depreciates them accordingly. Likewise, when a major inspection is performed, its cost is recognized in the carrying amount of the plant and equipment as a replacement if the recognition criteria are satisfied. All other repair and maintenance costs are recognized in surplus or deficit as incurred. Where an asset is acquired in a non-exchange transaction for nil or nominal consideration the asset is initially measured at its fair value.

Depreciation on assets is charged on a straight-line basis over the useful life of the asset.

Depreciation is charged at rates calculated to allocate the cost or valuation of the asset less any estimated residual value over its remaining useful life based on the COA issuances on the prescribed useful life of assets.

Leased assets may consist of vehicles and machinery. The assets' residual values and useful lives are reviewed, and adjusted prospectively, if appropriate, at the end of each reporting period. An asset's carrying amount is written down immediately to its recoverable amount, or recoverable service amount if the asset's carrying amount is greater than its estimated recoverable amount or recoverable service amount. The LGU derecognizes items of property, plant, and equipment and/or any significant part of an asset upon disposal or when no future economic benefits or service potential is expected from its continuing use. Any gain or loss arising on the derecognition of the asset (calculated as the difference between the net disposal proceeds and the carrying amount of the asset) is included in the surplus or deficit when the asset is derecognized.

For assets under construction, the Construction Period Theory shall be applied for costing purposes. Expenses paid such as license fees, permit fees, clearance fees, etc. during the construction period shall be added to the total cost of the project. However, liquidated damages charged to the contractor for delayed completion shall be deducted from the total cost of the asset.

3.6 Financial instruments

Financial assets

Initial recognition and measurement

Financial assets are classified at fair value through surplus or deficit, loans, and receivables, held-to-maturity investments, or available-for-sale financial assets, as appropriate.

Purchases or sales of financial assets that require delivery of assets within a time frame established by regulation or convention in the marketplace (regular way trades) are recognized on the trade date, i.e., the date that the LGU commits to purchase or sell the asset.

The LGU's financial assets include cash and short-term deposits; trade and other receivables; loans and other receivables and quoted and unquoted financial instruments.

Subsequent measurement

The subsequent measurement of financial assets depends on their classification.

Financial assets at fair value through surplus or deficit

Financial assets at fair value through surplus or deficit include financial assets held for trading and financial assets designated upon initial recognition at fair value through surplus and deficit. Financial assets are classified as held for trading if they are acquired for the purpose of selling or repurchasing in the near term. Financial assets at fair value through surplus or deficit are carried in the statement of financial position at fair value with changes in fair value recognized in surplus or deficit.

Loans and receivables

Loans and receivables are non-derivative financial assets with fixed or determinable payments that are not quoted in an active market. After initial measurement, such financial assets are subsequently measured at amortized cost using the effective interest method, less impairment. Amortized cost is calculated by considering any discount or premium on acquisition and fees or costs that are an integral part of the effective interest rate. Losses arising from impairment are recognized in the surplus or deficit.

Held-to-maturity

Non-derivative financial assets with fixed or determinable payments and fixed maturities are classified as held to maturity when the LGU has a positive intention and ability to hold it to maturity. After initial measurement, held-to-maturity investments are measured at amortized cost using the effective interest method, less impairment. Amortized cost is calculated by considering any discount or premium on acquisition and fees or costs that are an integral part of the effective interest rate. The losses arising from impairment are recognized in surplus or deficit.

Derecognition

The LGU derecognizes a financial asset or, where applicable, a part of a financial asset or part of a group of similar financial assets when:

a) The rights to receive cash flows from the asset have expired or is waived;
b) The LGU has transferred its rights to receive cash flows from the asset or has assumed an obligation to pay the received cash flows in full without material delay to a third party; and either: (a) the LGU has transferred substantially all the risks and rewards of the asset; or (b) the LGU has neither transferred nor retained substantially all the risks and rewards of the asset, but has transferred control of the asset.

Impairment of financial assets

The LGU assesses at each reporting date whether there is objective evidence that a financial asset or a group of financial assets is impaired. A financial asset or a group of financial assets is deemed to be impaired if, there is objective evidence of impairment as a result of one or more events that have occurred after the initial recognition of the asset (an incurred 'loss event') and that loss event has an impact on the estimated future cash flows of the financial asset or the group of financial assets that can be reliably estimated. Evidence of impairment may include the following indicators:

a) The debtors or a group of debtors are experiencing significant financial difficulty;
b) Default or delinquency in interest or principal payments;
c) The probability that debtors will enter bankruptcy or other financial reorganization; and
d) Observable data indicates a measurable decrease in estimated future cash flows (e.g. changes in arrears or economic conditions that correlate with defaults)

Financial assets carried at amortized cost

For financial assets carried at amortized cost, the LGU first assesses whether objective evidence of impairment exists individually for financial assets that are individually significant, or collectively for financial assets that are not individually significant. If the LGU determines that no objective evidence of impairment exists for an individually assessed financial asset, whether significant or not, it includes the asset in a group of financial assets with similar credit risk characteristics and collectively assesses them for impairment. Assets that are individually assessed for impairment and for which an impairment loss is, or continues to be, recognized are not included in a collective assessment of impairment.

If there is objective evidence that an impairment loss has been incurred, the amount of the loss is measured as the difference between the assets carrying amount and the present value of estimated future cash flows (excluding future expected credit losses that have not yet been incurred). The present value of the estimated future cash flows is discounted at the financial asset's original effective interest rate. If a loan has a variable interest rate, the discount rate for measuring any impairment loss is the current effective interest rate.

The carrying amount of the asset is reduced by an allowance account and the amount of the loss is recognized in surplus or deficit. If, in a subsequent year, the amount of the estimated impairment loss increases or decreases because of an event occurring after the impairment was recognized, the previously recognized impairment loss is increased or reduced by adjusting the allowance account. If a future write-off is later recovered, the recovery is credited to finance costs in surplus or deficit.

Financial liabilities

Initial recognition and measurement

Financial liabilities within the scope of IPSAS 29 are classified as financial liabilities at fair value through surplus or deficit or loans and borrowings, as appropriate. The LGU determines the classification of its financial liabilities at initial recognition.

All financial liabilities are recognized initially at fair value and, in the case of loans and borrowings.

The LGU group's financial liabilities include trade and other payables, bank overdrafts, loans, and borrowings.

Subsequent measurement

The measurement of financial liabilities depends on their classification.

Financial liabilities at fair value through surplus or deficit

Financial liabilities at fair value through surplus or deficit include financial liabilities held for trading and financial liabilities designated upon initial recognition as at fair value through surplus or deficit.

Loans and borrowings

After initial recognition, interest bearing loans and borrowings are subsequently measured at amortized cost using the effective interest method. Gains and losses are recognized in surplus or deficit when the liabilities are derecognized as well as through the effective interest method amortization process.
Amortized cost is calculated by taking into account any discount or premium on acquisition and fees or costs that are an integral part of the effective interest rate.

Derecognition

A financial liability is derecognized when the obligation under the liability is discharged, canceled, or expires.

When an existing financial liability is replaced by another from the same lender on substantially different terms or the terms of an existing liability are substantially modified, such exchange or modification is treated as a derecognition of the original liability and the recognition of a new liability.

Offsetting of financial instruments

Financial assets and financial liabilities are offset and the net amount reported in the consolidated statement of financial position if, there is a currently enforceable legal right to offset the recognized amounts and there is an intention to settle on a net basis, or to realize the assets and settle the liabilities simultaneously.

Fair value of financial instruments

The fair value of financial instruments that are traded in active markets at each reporting date is determined by reference to quoted market prices or dealer price quotations (bid price for long positions and ask price for short positions), without any deduction for transaction costs.

3.7 Cash and cash equivalents

Cash and cash equivalents comprise cash on hand and cash in the bank, deposits on call, and highly liquid investments with an original maturity of three months or less, which are readily convertible to known amounts of cash and are subject to an insignificant risk of changes in value. For the purpose of the consolidated statement of cash flows, cash and cash equivalents consist of cash and short-term deposits as defined above, net of outstanding bank overdrafts.

3.8 Inventories

Inventory is measured at cost upon initial recognition. To the extent that inventory was received through non-exchange transactions (for no cost or for a nominal cost), the cost of the inventory is its fair value at the date of acquisition.

Costs incurred in bringing each product to its present location and condition are accounted for, as follows:

a) Raw materials: purchase cost using the weighted average cost method;
b) Finished goods and work in progress: cost of direct materials and labor and a proportion of manufacturing overheads based on the normal operating capacity, but excluding borrowing costs.

After initial recognition, inventory is measured at the lower of cost and net realizable value. However, to the extent that a class of inventory is distributed or deployed at no charge or for a nominal charge, that class of inventory is measured at the lower of cost and current replacement cost.

Net realizable value is the estimated selling price in the ordinary course of operations, less the estimated costs of completion and the estimated costs necessary to make the sale, exchange, or distribution. Inventories are recognized as an expense when deployed for utilization or consumption in the ordinary course of operations of the LGU.

3.9 Provisions

Provisions are recognized when the LGU has a present obligation (legal or constructive) as a result of a past event, it is probable that an outflow of resources embodying economic benefits or service potential will be required to settle the obligation and a reliable estimate can be made of the amount of the obligation.

Where the LGU expects some or all provisions to be reimbursed, for example, under an insurance contract, the reimbursement is recognized as a separate asset only when the reimbursement is virtually certain. The expense relating to any provision is presented in the statement of financial performance net of any reimbursement.

Rehabilitation liability

Rehabilitation costs are provided at the present value of expected costs to settle the obligation using estimated cash flows and are recognized as part of the cost of that particular asset. The cash flows are discounted at a current rate that reflects the risks specific to the rehabilitation liability. The unwinding of the discount is expensed as incurred and recognized in the statement of financial performance as a finance cost. The estimated future costs of decommissioning are reviewed annually and adjusted as appropriate. Changes in the estimated future costs or in the discount rate applied are added to or deducted from the cost of the asset.

Contingent liabilities

The LGU does not recognize a contingent liability but discloses details of any contingencies in the notes to the financial statements unless the possibility of an outflow of resources embodying economic benefits or service potential is remote.

Contingent assets

The LGU does not recognize a contingent asset but discloses details of a possible asset whose existence is contingent on the occurrence or non-occurrence of one or more uncertain future events not wholly within the control of the LGU in the notes to the financial statements. Contingent assets are assessed continually to ensure that developments are appropriately reflected in the financial statements. If it has become virtually certain that an inflow of economic benefits or service potential will arise and the asset's value can be measured reliably, the asset and the related revenue are recognized in the financial statements of the period in which the change occurs.

3.10 Changes in accounting policies and estimates

The LGU recognizes the effects of changes in accounting policy retrospectively. The effects of changes in accounting policy are applied prospectively if retrospective application is impractical.

The LGU recognizes the effects of changes in accounting estimates prospectively by including in surplus or deficit.

3.11 Borrowing costs

Borrowing costs are capitalized against qualifying assets as part of property, plant, and equipment. Such borrowing costs are capitalized over the period during which the asset is being acquired or constructed and borrowings have been incurred. Capitalization ceases when the construction of the asset is complete. Further, borrowing costs are charged to the statement of financial performance.

3.12 Related parties

The LGU regards a related party as a person or an entity with the ability to exert control individually or jointly, or to exercise significant influence over the LGU, or vice versa. Members of key management are regarded as related parties. The LGU has no identified related party transactions. Incumbent key management personnel and their annual salaries as of CY 2024 are shown below:

3.13 Budget information

The annual budget is prepared on a modified cash basis, that is, all planned costs and income are presented in a single statement to determine the needs of the LGU. As a result of the adoption of the modified cash basis for budgeting purposes, a separate Statement of Comparison of Budget and Actual Amounts is presented showing the basis, timing, or entity differences that would require reconciliation between the actual comparable amounts and the amounts presented. Explanatory comments are provided in note 35 to the annual financial statements; first, the reasons for overall growth or decline in the budget are stated, followed by details of overspending, or underspending on line items.

3.14 Significant judgments and sources of estimation uncertainty

Judgments

In the process of applying the LGU's accounting policies, management has made judgments, which have the most significant effect on the amounts recognized in the consolidated financial statements.

Estimates and assumptions

The key assumptions concerning the future and other key sources of estimation uncertainty at the reporting date, that have a significant risk of causing a material adjustment to the carrying amounts of assets and liabilities within the next financial year, are described below. The LGU based its assumptions and estimates on parameters available when the consolidated financial statements were prepared.

However, existing circumstances and assumptions about future developments may change due to market changes or circumstances arising beyond the control of the LGU. Such changes are reflected in the assumptions when they occur.

Useful lives and residual values

The useful lives and residual values of assets are assessed using the following indicators to inform potential future use and value from disposal:

a) The condition of the asset based on the assessment of experts employed by the LGU;
b) The nature of the asset, its susceptibility and adaptability to changes in technology and processes;
c) The nature of the processes in which the asset is deployed; and
d) Changes in the market in relation to the asset.

The adjustments arising from the revision of the assets' useful life were charged to the current and subsequent year's depreciation expenses of the particular assets. (COA Circular No. 2004 – 005 dated August 9, 2004)

3.15 Impairment of non-financial assets

Impairment of cash-generating assets

The recoverable amounts of cash-generating units and individual assets have been determined based on the higher value-in-use calculations and fair values less costs to sell. These calculations require the use of estimates and assumptions. It is reasonably possible that the assumptions may change, which may then impact management's estimations and require a material adjustment to the carrying value of tangible assets.

The LGU reviews and tests the carrying value of assets when events or changes in circumstances suggest that the carrying amount may not be recoverable. Cash-generating assets are grouped at the lowest level for which identifiable cash flows are largely independent of cash flows of other assets and liabilities. If there are indications that impairment may have occurred, estimates of expected future cash flows are prepared for each group of assets. Expected future cash flows used to determine the value in use of tangible assets are inherently uncertain and could materially change over time.

Impairment of non-cash-generating assets

The LGU reviews and tests the carrying value of non-cash-generating assets when events or changes in circumstances suggest that there may be a reduction in the future service potential that can reasonably be expected to be derived from the asset. Where indicators of possible impairment are present, the LGU undertakes impairment tests, which require the determination of the fair value of the asset and its recoverable service amount. The estimation of these inputs into the calculation relies on the use of estimates and assumptions.

Any subsequent changes to the factors supporting these estimates and assumptions may have an impact on the reported carrying amount of the related asset.

Fair value estimation - financial instruments

Where the fair value of financial assets and financial liabilities recorded in the statement of financial position cannot be derived from active markets, their fair value is determined using valuation techniques including the discounted cash flow model. The inputs to these models are taken from observable markets where possible, but where this is not feasible, judgment is required in establishing fair values. The judgment includes the consideration of inputs such as liquidity risk, credit risk, and volatility. Changes in assumptions about these factors could affect the reported fair value of financial instruments.

Provisions

Provisions were raised and management determined an estimate based on the information available. Provisions are measured at the management's best estimate of the expenditure required to settle the obligation at the reporting date and are discounted to present value where the effect is material.

Held-to-maturity investments and loans and receivables

The LGU assesses its loans and receivables (including trade receivables) and its held-to-maturity investments at the end of each reporting period. In determining whether an impairment loss should be recorded in surplus or deficit, the LGU evaluates the indicators present in the market to determine if those indicators are indicative of impairment in its loans and receivables or held-to-maturity investments. Where specific impairments have not been identified the impairment for trade receivables, held-to-maturity investments, and loans and receivables is calculated on a portfolio basis, based on historical loss ratios, adjusted for national and industry-specific economic conditions and other indicators present at the reporting date that correlate with defaults on the portfolio. These annual loss ratios are applied to loan balances in the portfolio and scaled to the estimated loss emergence period.

3.16 Financial Instrument – financial risk management

Exposure to currency, commodity, interest rate, liquidity, and credit risks arises in the normal course of the LGU's operations. This note presents information about the LGU's exposure to each of the mentioned risks, policies and processes for measuring and managing risk, and the LGU's management of capital. Further quantitative disclosures are included throughout these financial statements. Fair values set out below, is a comparison by class of the carrying amounts and fair value of the LGU's financial instruments.

The fair value of the financial assets and liabilities are included in the amount at which the instrument could be exchanged in a current transaction between willing parties, other than in a forced sale or liquidation.

The following methods and assumptions were used to estimate the fair values:

a) Cash and short-term deposits, trade receivables, trade payables, and other current liabilities approximate their carrying amounts largely due to the short-term maturities of these instruments;

b) Long-term fixed-rate and variable-rate receivables/ borrowings are evaluated by the LGU based on parameters such as interest rates, individual creditworthiness of the customer, and the risk characteristics of the financed project. Based on this evaluation, allowances are taken to account for the incurred losses of these receivables and market-related interest rates. As of 31 December 2021, the carrying amounts of such receivables, net of allowances, are not materially different from their calculated fair values;

c) Fair value of quoted notes and bonds is based on price quotations at the reporting date. The fair value of unquoted instruments, loans from banks and other financial liabilities, obligations under finance leases, as well as other non-current financial liabilities is estimated by discounting future cash flows using rates currently available for debt on similar terms, credit risk and remaining maturities;

d) Fair value of financial assets is derived from quoted market prices in active markets, if available; and

e) Fair value of unquoted available-for-sale financial assets is estimated using appropriate valuation techniques.

Fair value hierarchy

The LGU uses the following hierarchy for determining and disclosing the fair value of financial instruments by valuation technique:

Level 1: Quoted (unadjusted) prices in active markets for identical assets or liabilities;

Level 2: Inputs other than quoted prices included within Level 1 that are observable for the asset or liability, either directly (i.e., as price) or indirectly (i.e., derived from prices);

Level 3: Techniques which use inputs that have a significant effect on the recorded fair value that are not based on observable market data.

Credit risk

Credit risk is the risk of financial loss to the LGU if customers or counterparties to financial instruments fail to meet their contractual obligations, and it arises principally from the LGU's investments, loans, receivables, and cash and cash equivalents. The carrying amount of financial assets represents the maximum credit exposure.

Credit quality

Credit quality is an assessed risk of default attached to counterparties to which the LGU extends credit and those parties with whom the LGU invests. As such, the credit quality assessed extends to the customers, investments and banks servicing the LGU.

Investments

The LGU limits its exposure to credit risk by investing with only reputable financial institutions that have a sound credit rating (rated BB and above), which are within the specific guidelines set in accordance with the LGU Finance Committee and the Sanggunian approved investment policy. Consequently, the LGU does not consider there to be any significant exposure to credit risk.

Receivables

Receivables are amounts owed by consumers and are presented net of impairment losses. The LGU has a credit risk policy in place, and the exposure to credit risk is monitored on an ongoing basis. The LGU is compelled by its constitutional mandate to provide all its residents with basic minimum services, without recourse to an assessment of creditworthiness. There were no material changes in the exposure to credit risk and its objectives, policies, and processes for managing and measuring the risk during the year under review.

The LGU's maximum exposure to credit risk is represented by the carrying value of each financial asset in the statement of financial performance. The LGU has no significant concentration of credit risk, with exposure spread over a large number of consumers, and is not concentrated in any particular sector or geographic area.

Cash and cash equivalents

The LGU limits its exposure to credit risk by investing cash and cash equivalents with only reputable financial institutions that have a sound credit rating, and within specific guidelines set in accordance with the Sanggunian's approved investment policy. Consequently, the LGU does not consider the accounts to be any significant exposure to credit risk.

Liquidity risk

Liquidity risk is the risk of the LGU not being able to meet its obligations as they fall due. The LGU's approach to managing liquidity risk is to ensure that sufficient liquidity is available to meet its liabilities when due, without incurring unacceptable losses or risking damage to the LGU's reputation.

Capital management

The primary objective of managing the LGU's capital is to ensure that there is sufficient cash available to support the LGU's funding requirements, including capital expenditure, to ensure that the LGU remains financially sound.

Note 4 – Cash and Cash Equivalents
